Each year a new leaf is added to the record of events which have taken place at S. F. H. With the publication of another edition of "Gathering Leaves". The Yearbook Club is proud to present

LEAF NINE

FRIENDS

Gathering leaves

Gentle limbs from autumn trees

Shake loose the summer's fruit

Winter speaks

of a love grown cold

a meaning that scattered with the breeze

It left with the wind

that blows the world around and weaved a weary path to earth

then dropped and rolled and tossed upon the barren ground

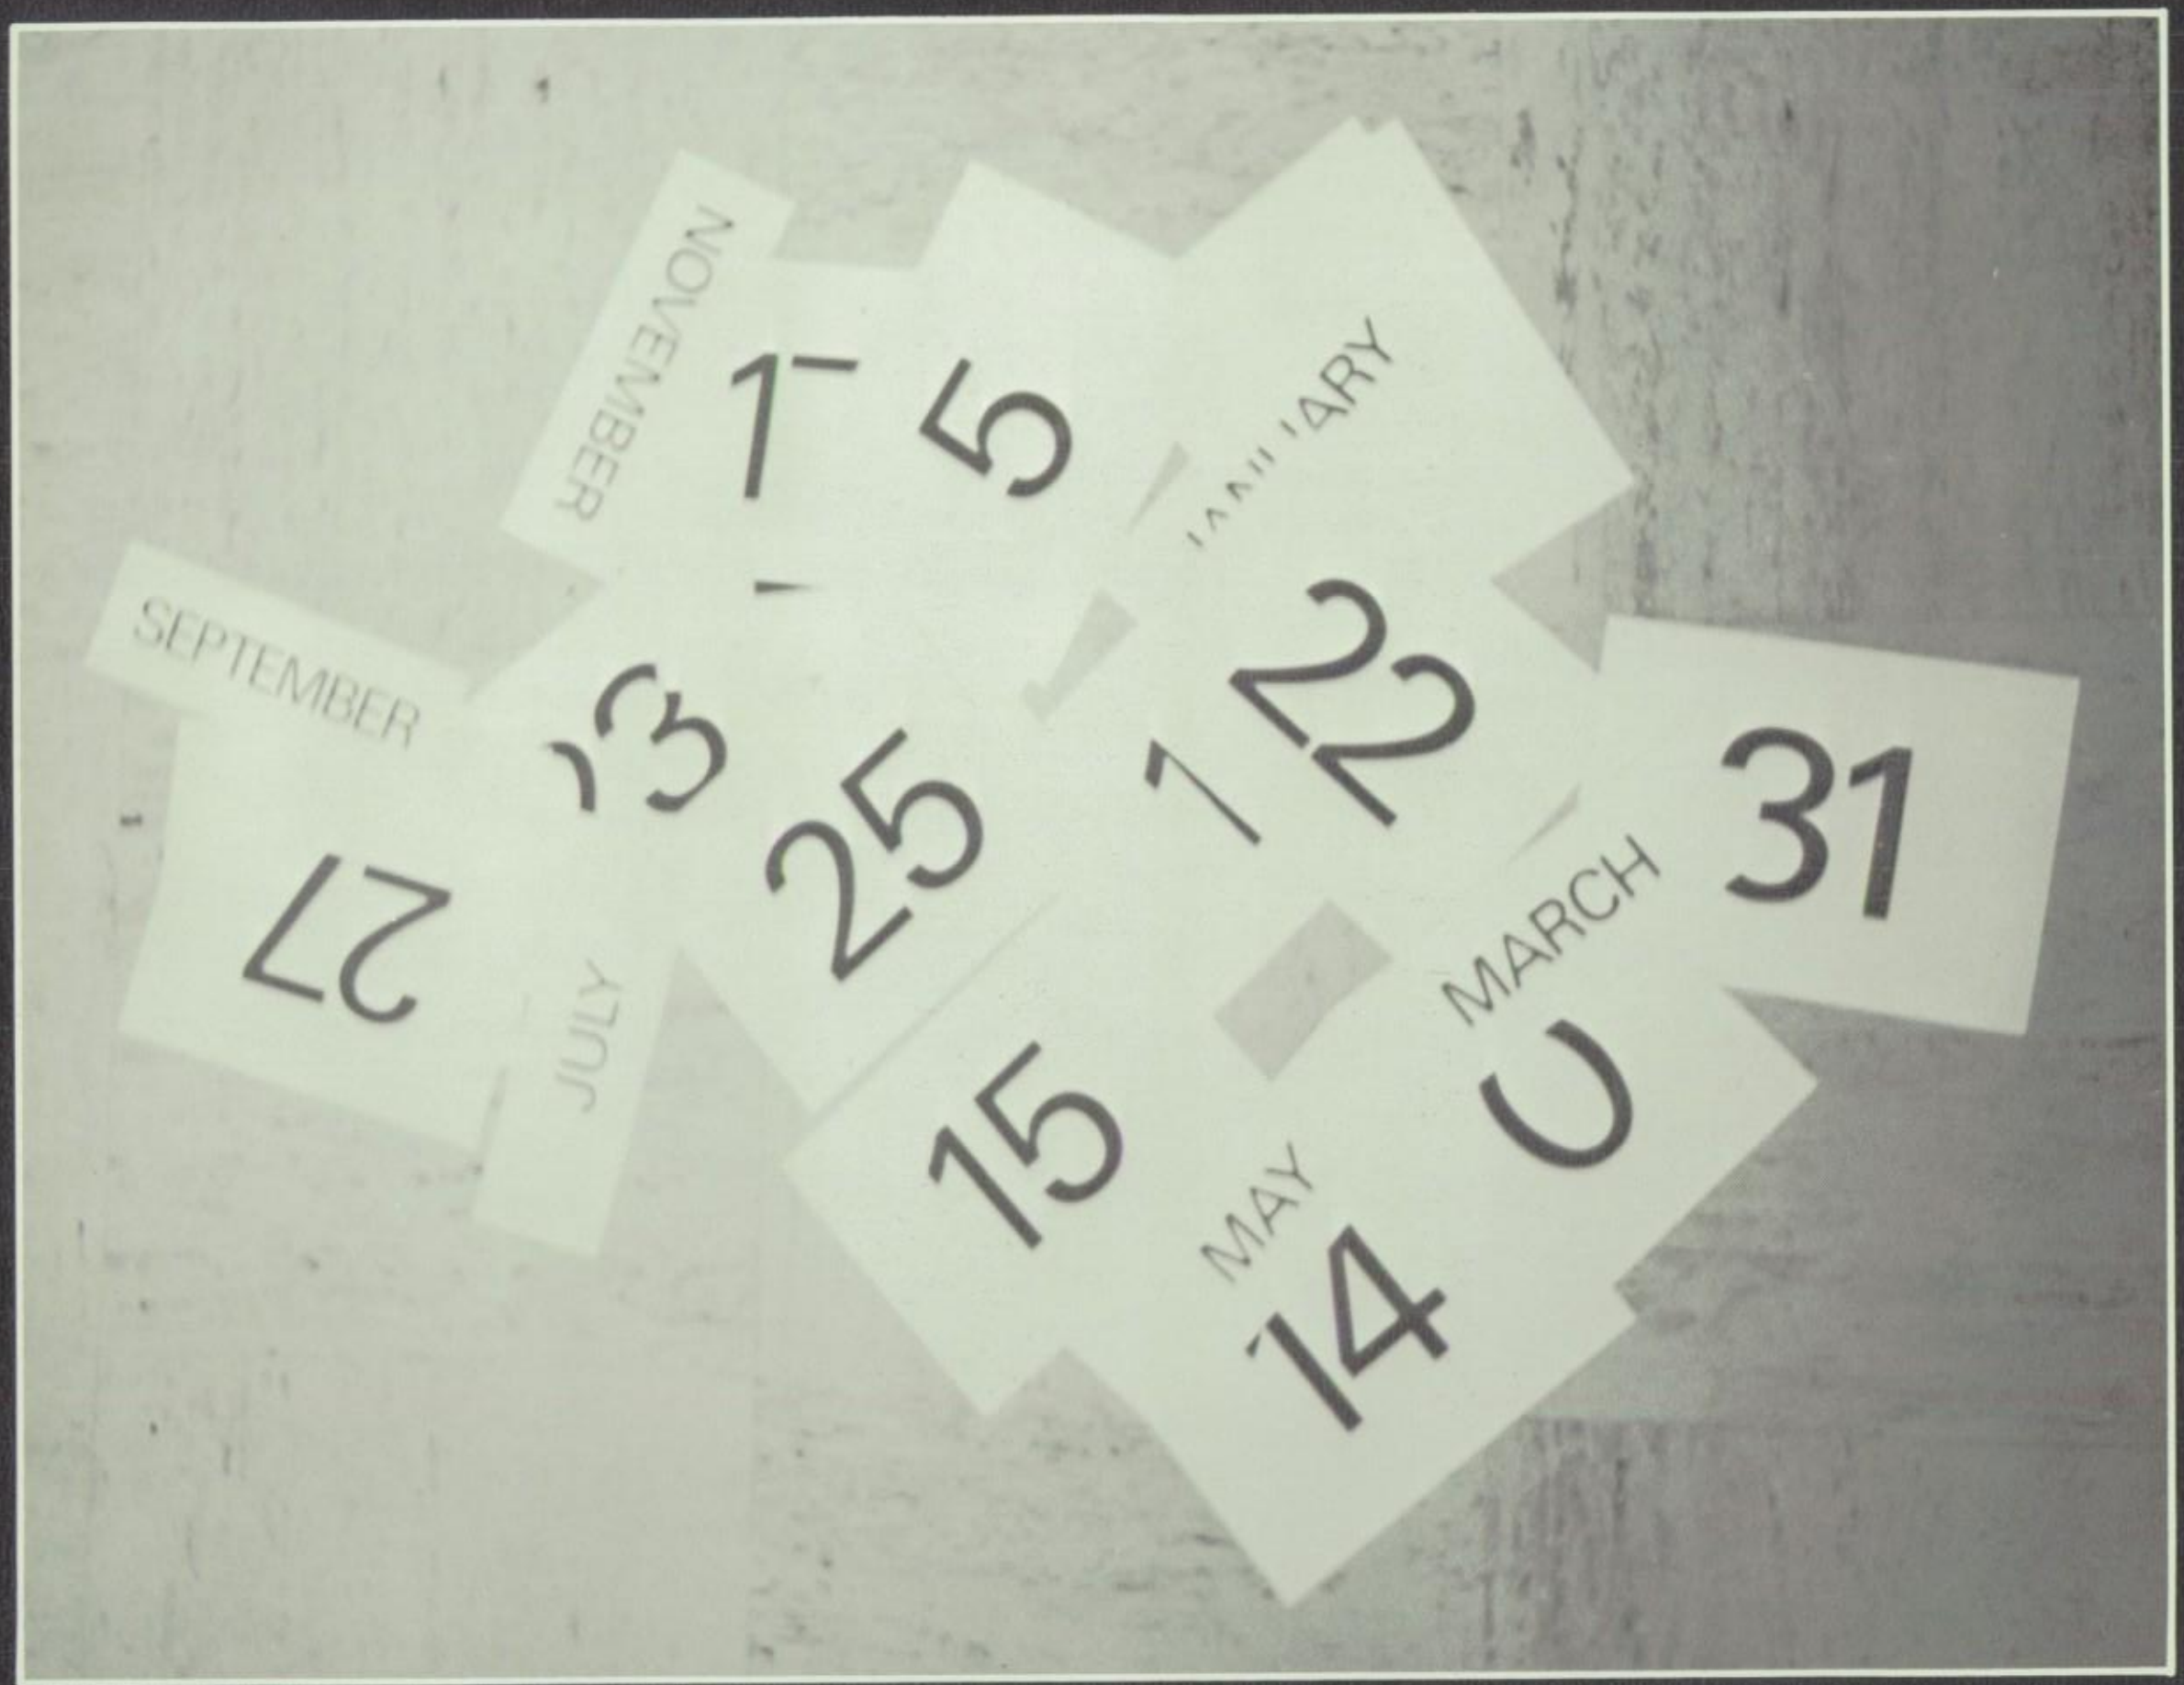
With a gentle pUSH from fall's fair winds

it drifts beneath the moon

sifts and gathers into piles

The end has come too soon



NOVEMBER

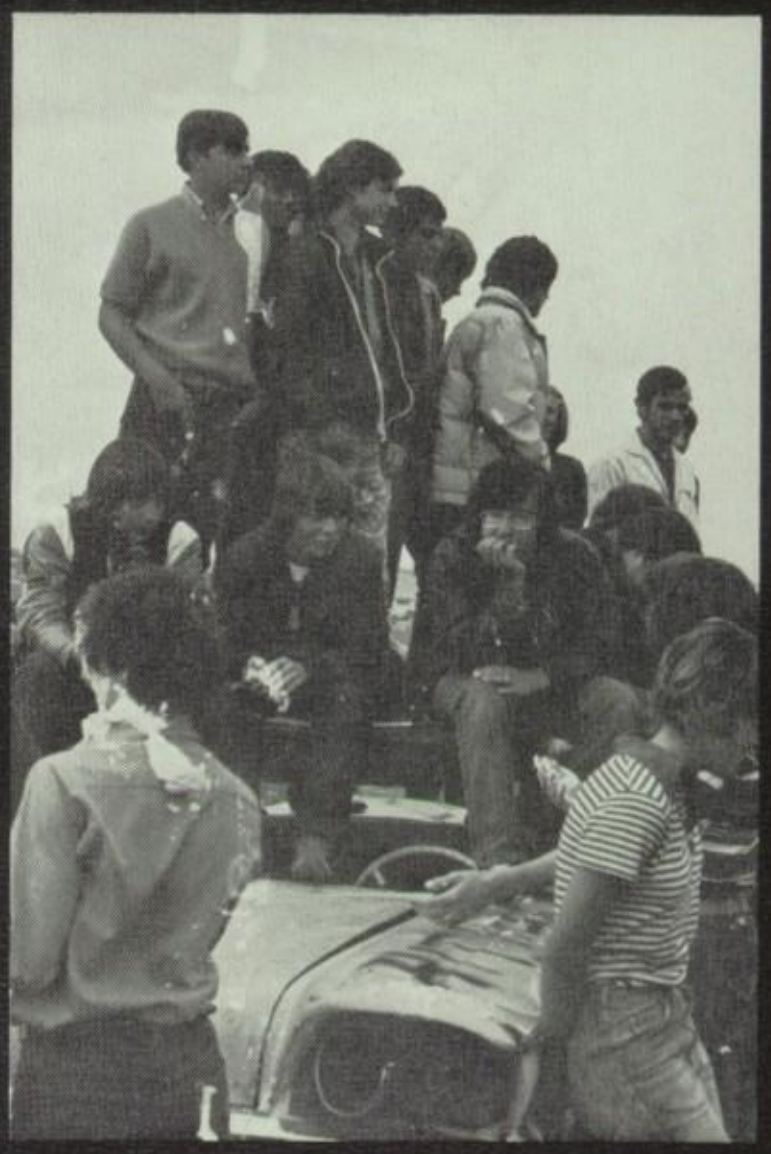
MARCH

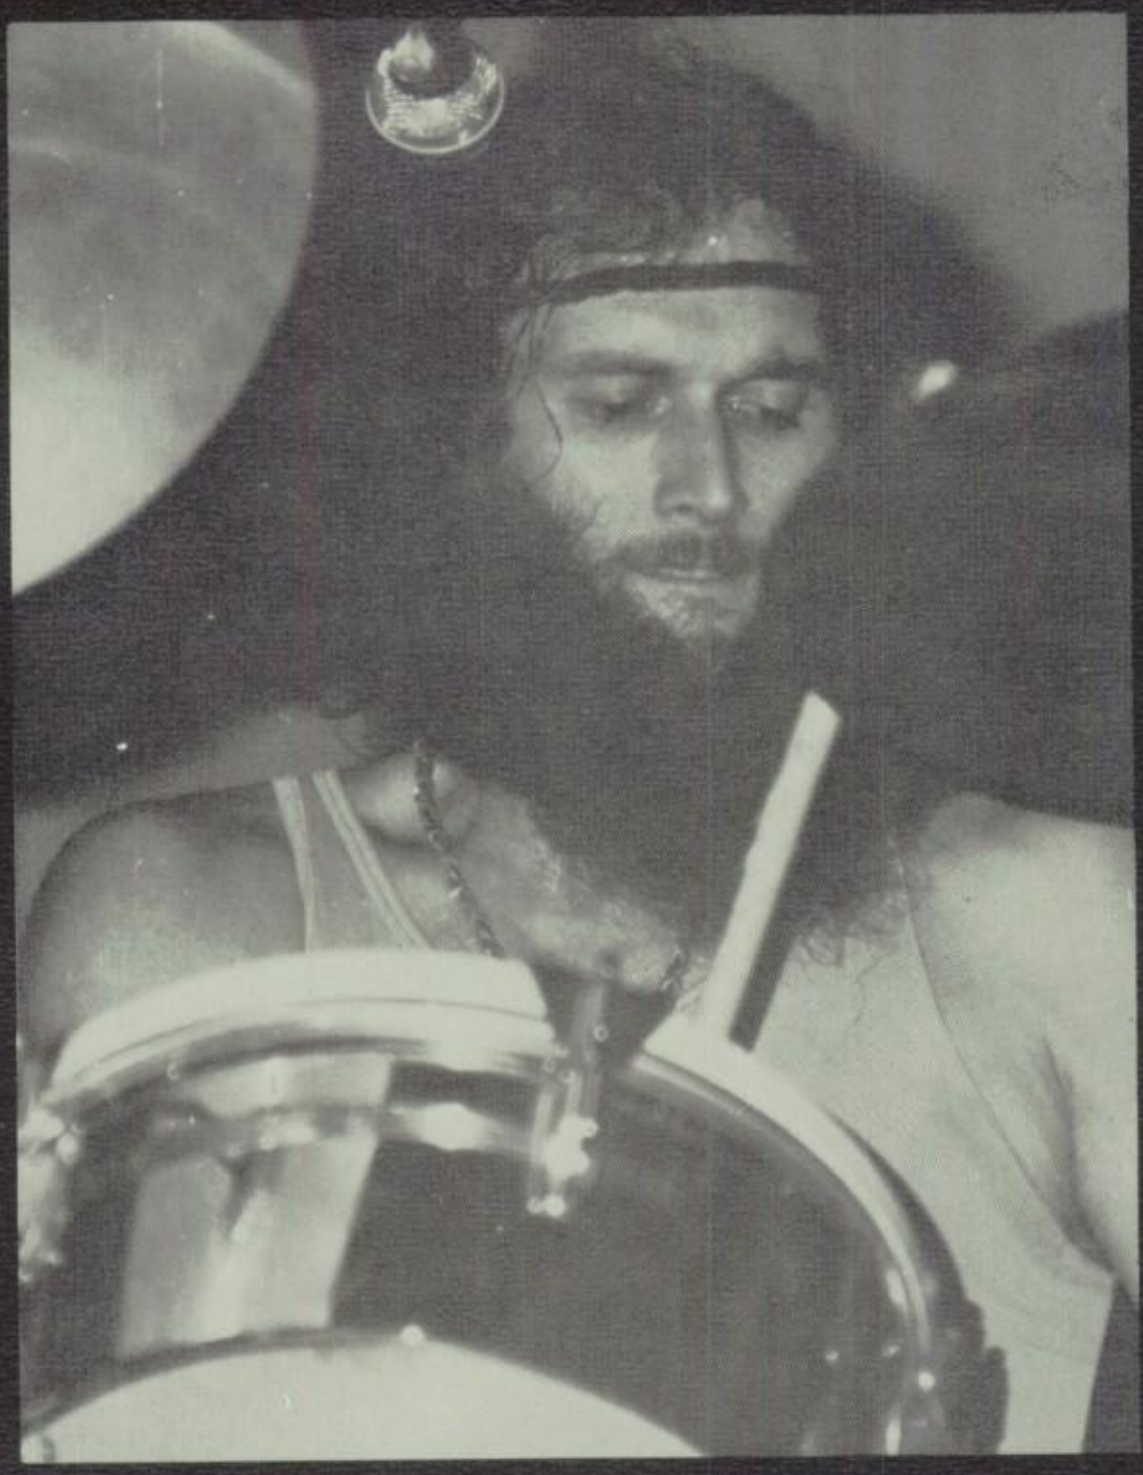
FROSH WEEK . . .



. . . the car wreck

. . . was kicked off following the gruelling events of registration with episodes such as . . .

. . . powder puff football.

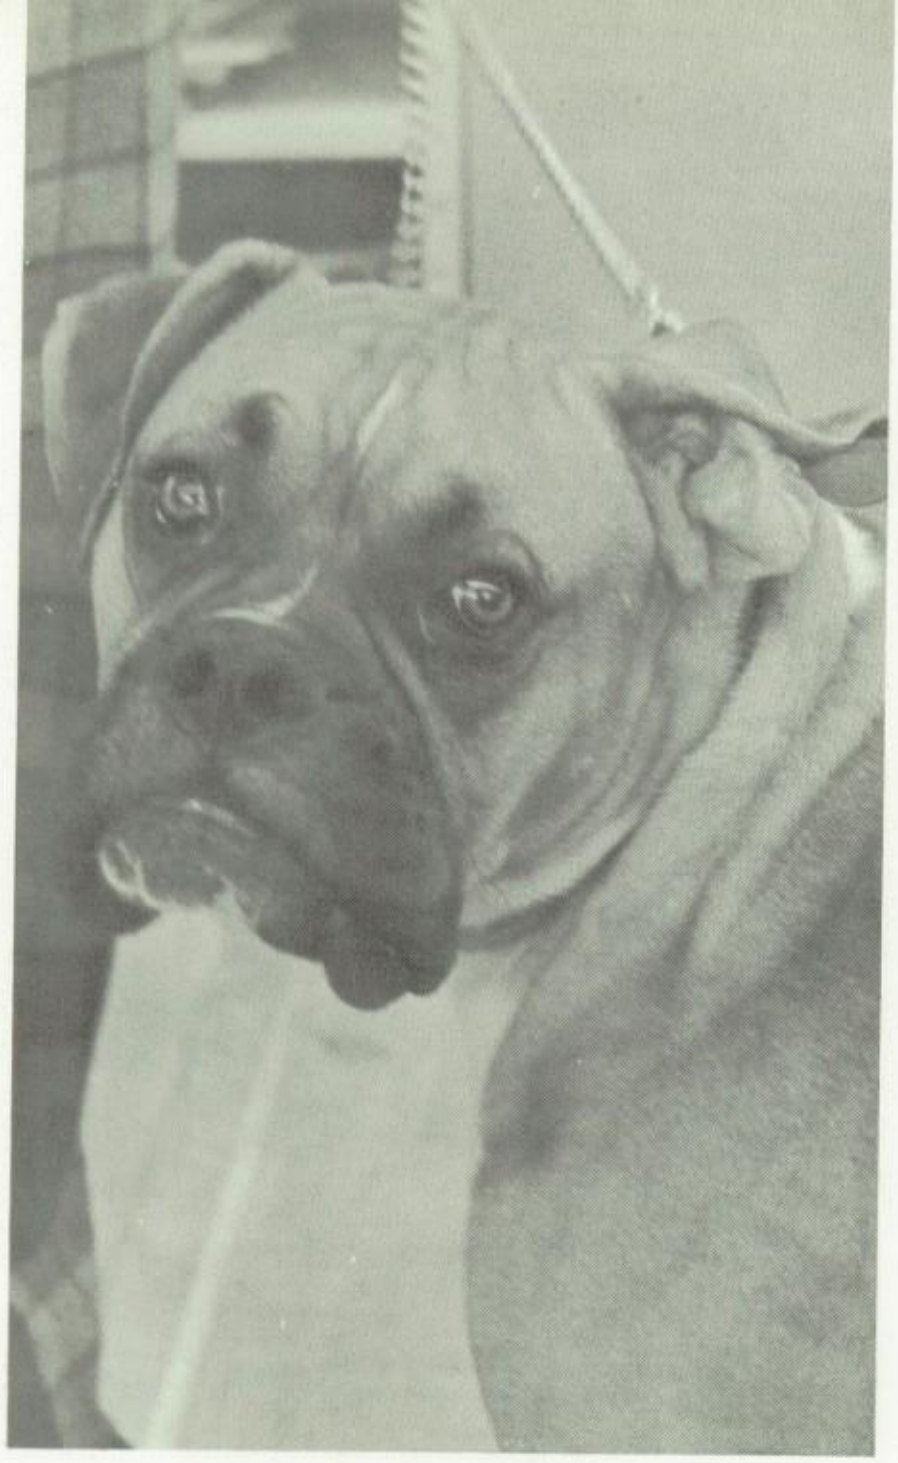


Featuring Mashmakhan, the Frosh Dance, which was a smash success, concluded the activities of the week and . . . Denise Christiansen was crowned Frosh queen.

. . . and an opportunity for the students to express their appreciation of student council at the pie throw.

The 1971 Mission Day topped the $600 mark as the students took part in events such as the penny race and the shoe shine. Armed with toilet plungers, teachers took a winning victory over the students in the Squamish Game.

MISSION DAY



GOOD

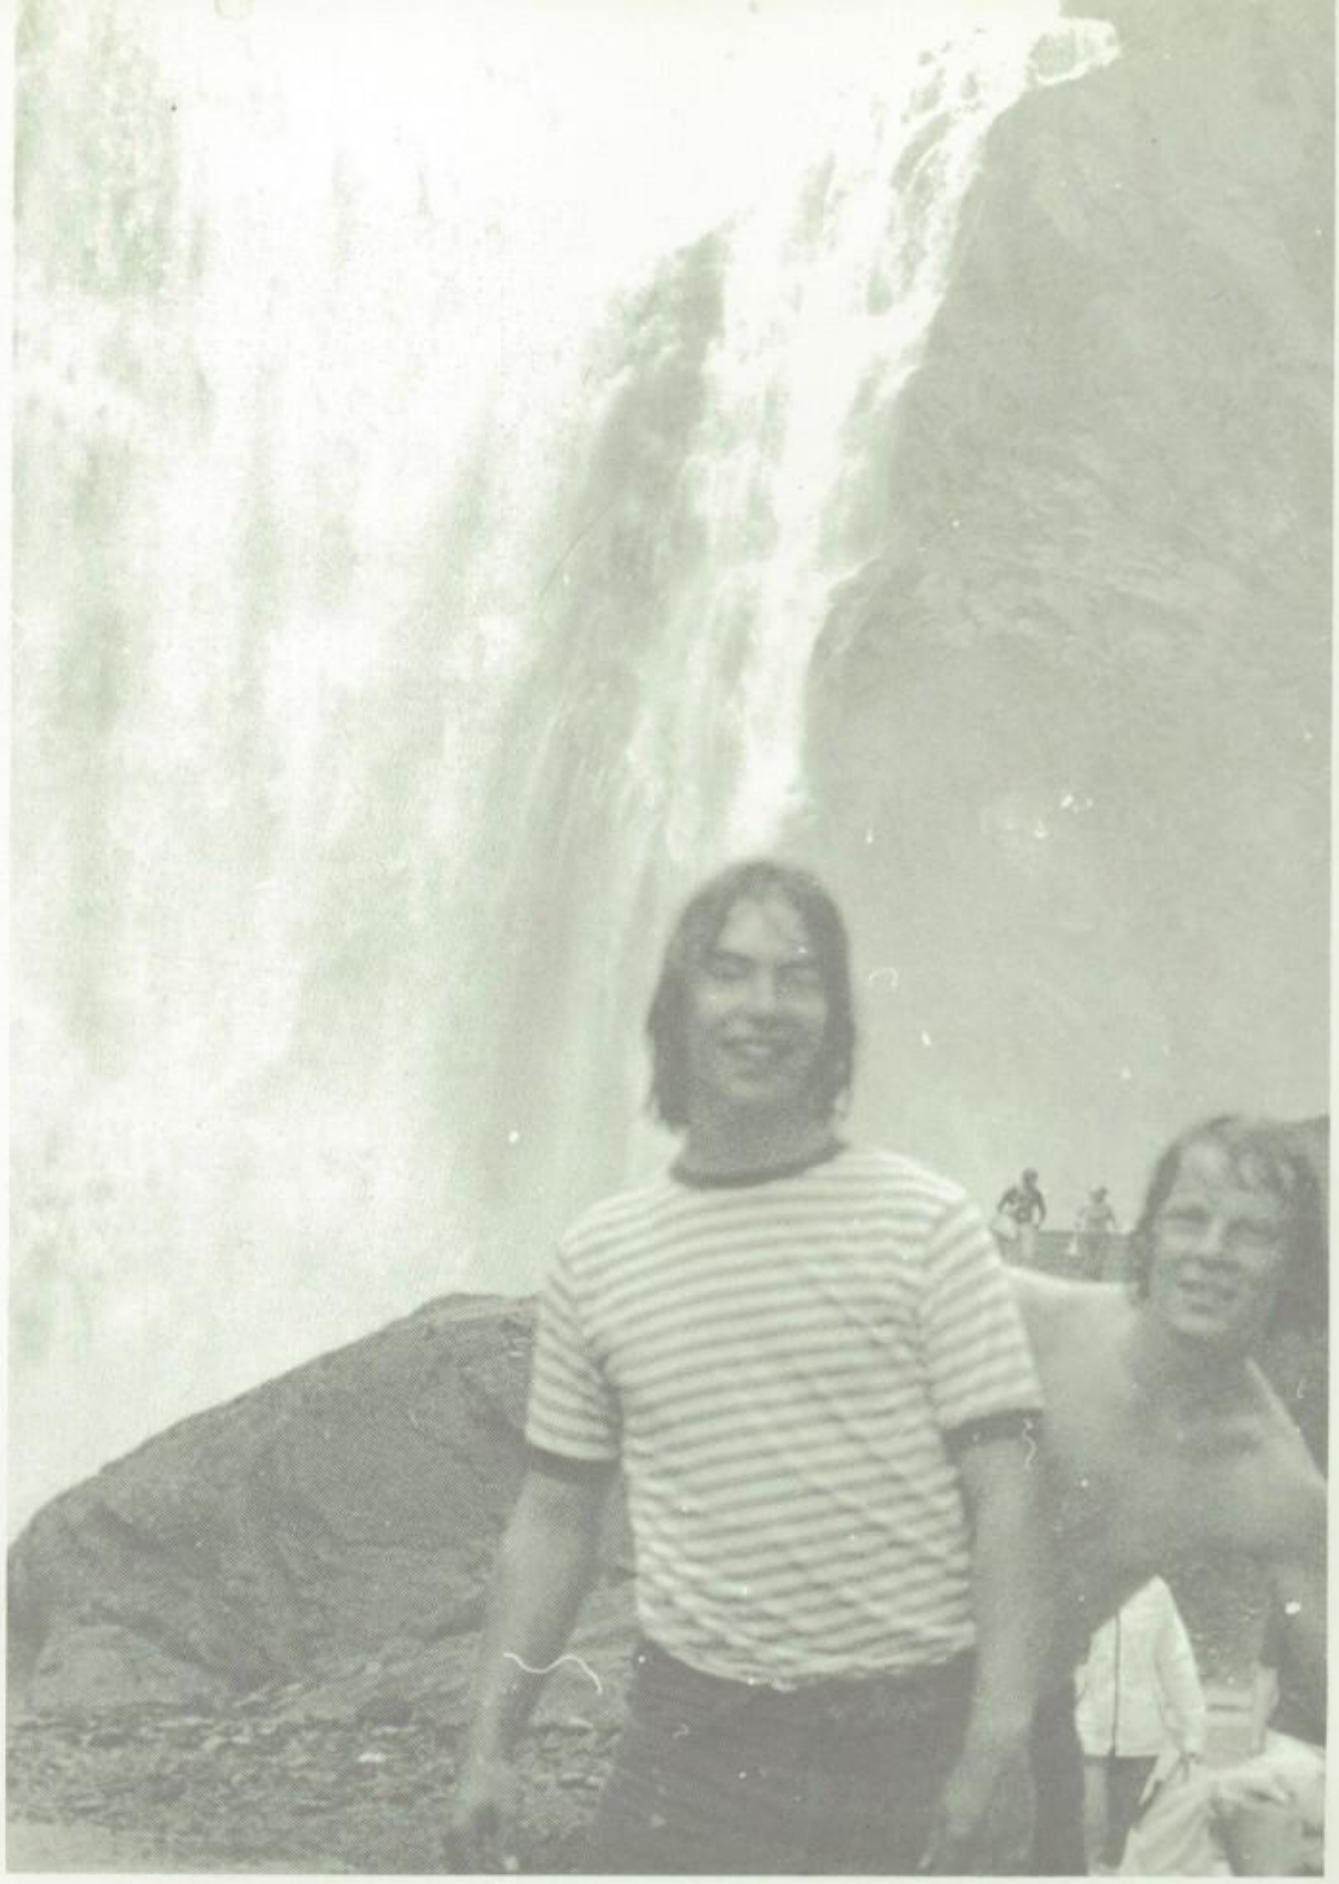
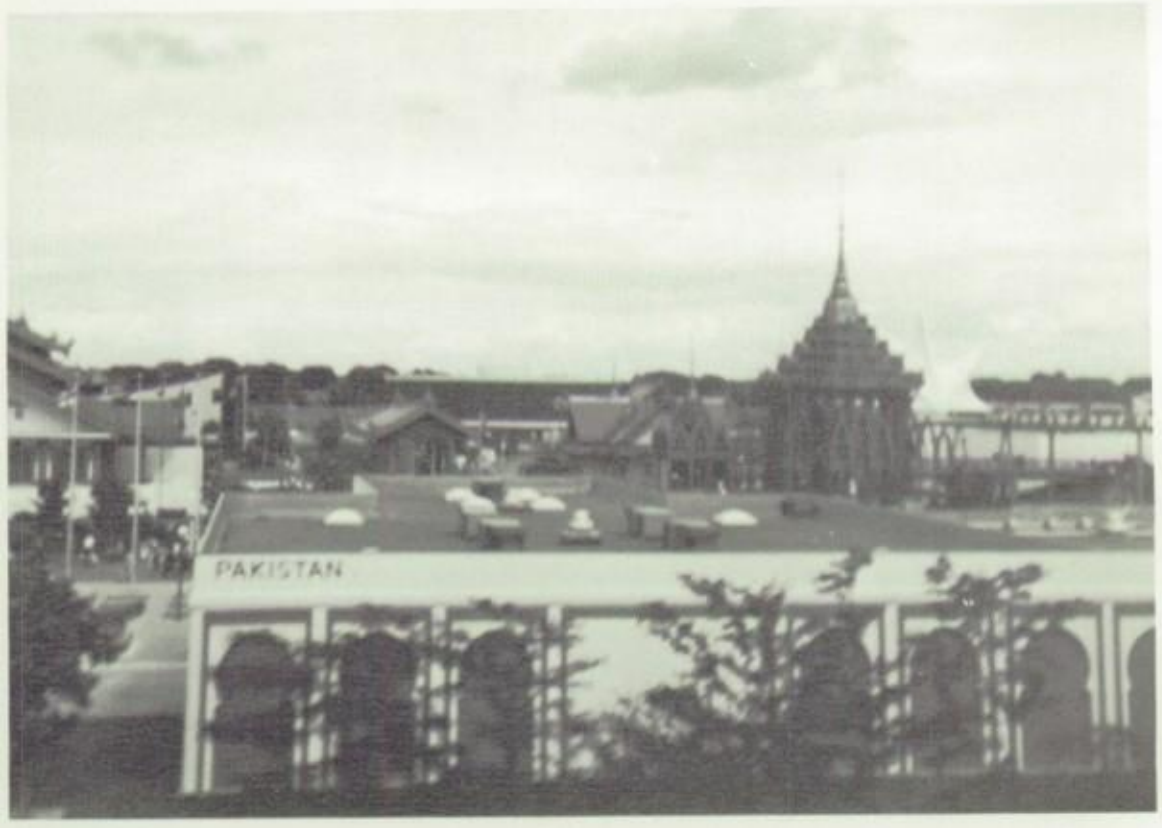
EEN!

Sharing the lives of French and English speaking families in Quebec and southern Ontario, twenty students from St. Francis took part in two student exchanges during the summer. After acting as hosts to French speaking students from Quebec, one group travelled to St. Catherine's Ontario to live with their families . . .



Touring Toronto, Hamilton, Niagara Falls and various other hysterical points of interest.

YOUNG VOYAGEURS

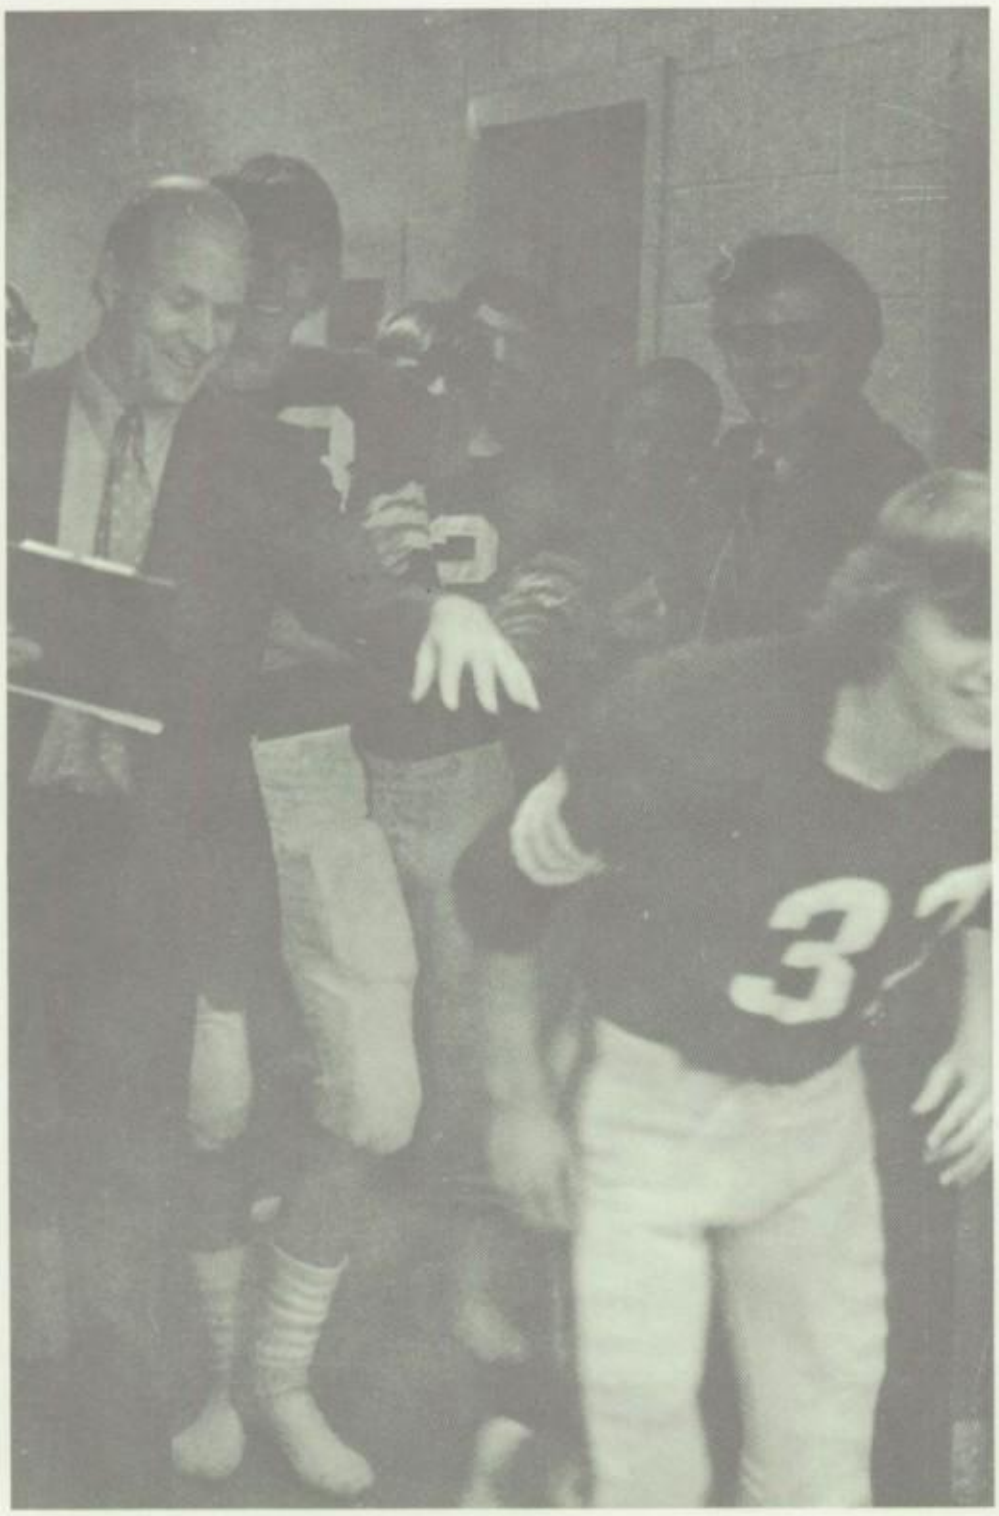


A second group returned with their French guests to live with their families in and around Montreal. Returning once again to Calgary, mumbling half French half English and richer by a hundred new friends, the only thing anybody seemed to have missed out on was a good night's sleep.

Nothing provides for unity in a school as sports. Striving for a common goal of athletic achievement is the strongest binding force of the student body. The '71-72 Browns have provided an excellent record this year which not only proves their outstanding skill, but also reflects on the entire spectrum of student life.

SPORTS

FOOTBALL RALLY



A perfect Kickoff to the football season was the rally in Sept. which was held for the introduction of the Football Teams.

Through our fun-raising, monstrous dances, Christmas hampers, and parties, we have enjoyed. We fought through our football and basketball season, our varied (and uniquely named) house-leaque teams, and our tournaments. During final exams and job applications we suffered, and in grad we grew. Through our school we lived.

We owe a debt of thanks to our ruling triumvirate and our teachers. And our friends.

We will never have another chance to indulge as fully in life as in high school, for we will never pass this way again. We make no apologies.

MISS ELSIE M. TIGHE EDUCATOR AND BUSINESS WOMAN

After attending Calgary Normal School and obtaining her Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of British Columbia, Elsie has dedicated some forty years of her life to the education of youth as a highly successful teacher and administrator.

Miss Tighe initially taught in and around the Lethbridge area for the first fifteen years of her teaching career. She then taught and ultimately became principal of the Calgary Business College during the next twenty years, when she took a year away from the classroom to become a founding partner of McHugh and Tighe Funeral Directors, rising to Secretary-Treasurer of that organization on its incorporation - a position that she still maintains.

In 1963 - the year after opening - St. Francis High School became Elsie's next career, where her classroom forté until the present became senior Shorthand and Business Machines.

Here in her associations with staff and students, this gracious lady has become a highly respected teacher whose vast knowledge on diverse subjects and empathy for those around her, has endeared her to all who have come to know her.

Good health, happiness and success is our wish to you Elsie.

Your friends at St. Francis.

No bird soars too high,

if it soars on its own wings

GRAD

Tomorrow, Yesterday and Today

On such an occasion as this, it is truly wonderful to realize that probably no other day is so much tomorrow... so much yesterday... and so much today.

First there's tomorrow. Tomorrow is the day when we finally settle into a vocation; tomorrow is the day we find a true love, and take her for better or for worse; tomorrow is the day she bears our first child; tomorrow is the day that clouds over with sorrow; tomorrow is the day that shines through with happiness.

Tomorrow will be a day of sadness; tomorrow will be many days of joy. Tomorrow we will watch our children grow, and we will shed tears of joy over the boundless miracle of life itself.

In the days to come we may fear tomorrow because of uncertainty that is fed by doubt, and yet we can be unafraid of tomorrow with the certainty that is nourished by faith.

Most important, tomorrow will be the day we make for ourselves.

Then there's yesterday. We all know what yesterday was. We can remember the first day at school when the girls strutted up to the teacher, proudly boasting their fancy ribbons and pretty curls, and their best Sunday-school dresses. The most fearless little miss would beam up at the teacher and spout: "I know my ABC's, I can count to a hundred, I can sing the National Anthemum, and I can tie my own shoe and button mine own coat... and my name is Karen".

Meanwhile, the fellas kinda sat back and looked the situation over... wearing a Sunday-school tie and jacket just wasn't what your mother had cracked it up to be, and short pants just didn't keep your knees warm. The shiny shoes didn't help matters, and having your hair combed was nothing short of sacreligious.

When your mother had left, there was no longer anyone who could have been trusted... certainly not the girls, and since they were swarming around the teacher, certainly not her. That left only the boys, though even some of them were a might shady lookin'.

Later that day, you walked home arms-over-shoulders with one of the guys in your class, both of you grubby from head to foot, you with a shiner, and he with a scraped knee and a cut lip; he is still one of your best friends.

That was the start of six years in elementary. Through those six years we all did a lot of living - we, our parents, and our teachers. Grade three crushes and the loss of baby teeth were among the priceless tragedies of those years before we swung into Junior High and those clumsy, awkward years of self-consciousness when we were blessed with those most beautiful outbreaks of acne in its various degrees.

Wall-flower dances flourished right through to Grade nine and on into Senior High. At about that time everybody started wondering what was going to be done with us after we had hatched out of the Great Halls of Learning. Each of us started to think (some of us for the first time), and when we had chosen our course loads we supposedly buckled down to work; some of us did, some of us didn't; most of us didn't. But we struggled through, all of us again - we, and especially our parents and our teachers.

Until we have come t the present, to this day. And we hav set aside this moment in order to acknowledge and thank you you the parents, and y u the teachers.

We thank you the parents for having guided us through the t bulent storms of youth, for having sheltered us from the chilly winds of life, for having fed us with courage and determination, for having strengthened us by your faith in us, and for having nurtured us with your love; most of all we thank you for having been there when we really needed you.

And we thank you the teachers for having tolerated us when we were intolerable, for having taught us when we were unwilling to learn, for having been patient with us when we were slow to grasp things, for having guided us over mountains of knowledge and through the very forests of our minds; you have performed a service for which we will never be able to repay you - we can only offer our most sincere thanks for the incalcuable effect you have had on our lives.

When you consider it, it's pretty funny that after twelve, long, grueling, grinding years of reading, writing, and 'rithmetic, we have to sit back and say "...it was cool"... but we do... because it was. Too often today we forget to stop and say "thankyou... for everything..."

And that is why I consider it such an honour to have been chosen valedictorian, because I have been asked to say thankyou for the many, many times we've forgotten, and in doing so, I would like to say "by the way... we love you ... and thanks again."

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

THE GRADUATING CLASS OF 1972

We, the Graduating Class of the "Year of the Lord" nineteen hundred and seventy two of St. Francis High School situated in the skiing capitol of Canada, Calgary, Alberta, being of sound mind, unquestionable intellect and infallible memory, do hereby make, publish, and declare this to be our Last Will and Testament, hereby revoking any will or wills heretofore made by us.

FIRST: We, the graduating members of the student council do hereby give, devise and bequeath unto the next year"s executive the responsibility of heading and preserving the student body 36 - 24 - 36, teacher executives and assistants respectively, directing activities and sustaining the fantastic school spirit not withholding the many joys and hardships associated therewith.

SECOND: We, the graduating member of the athletic team do hereby give, devise and bequeath our team spirit and half of the football team. May the many accomplishments of St. Francis Sports continue as in the past years and may we forever reign supreme in the field of athletic prowess and spirit.

THIRD: We, the graduating members of the silent minority do hereby give, devise and bequeath to our fellow grade IX's our Italian Piasanos.

FOURTH: We, the graduating class do hereby give, devise and bequeath our faithful teachers - you can have them.

FIFTH: To the grade X students so they do not feel that they have been entirely left out of our Last Will and Testament, Hello Grade X.

SIXTH: The yearbook staff do hereby give, devise and bequeath the tasks and rewards of putting the yearbook together and we claim no responsibility for the publication of this will.

SEVENTH: The graduating class do hereby give, and devise and bequeath the hallways throughout the year. Let's keep them clean especially at Christmas when the "spirits are high".

EIGHTH: We the graduation class of '72 do hereby give, devise and bequeath the Grade XI students the honor of being future grads, to the girls the anxiety of waiting and to the boys - start saving now fella.

NINTH: Concerning the cafeteria and those ten button bandits - may your pocket books expand and your stomachs shrink.

TENTH: To George and Gladys, Bob, Theresa, Ed and Hilda, and thank you "LOU" for leapin. May these and all other teachers forgive us and continue their good work.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF: We the graduating Class of "72" the Testators, have set our hand and seal hereto this 4th Day of May, in the Year of Our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred Seventy-Two.

GRADUATES of 1972 (Seal)

SIGNED, SEALED, PUBLISHED AND DECLARED as and for their Last Will and Testament by the Graduating Class of 1972, the above named Testators in the presence of them and of each other, have subscribed our names hereon as witnesses on the Day and Year Last Aforesaid.

Bob Burk, Dave Miller
Mary Smolis, Carmella Muzzo

THANKS TO:

George Huitema: who likes to take the backs off swivel chairs and ride up and down the hall on them. (He wanted us to mention his artistic ability.)
Kevin Mulligan: who out of the goodness of his heart consented to supply us with great photographic ability. (He can get into the bars legally in January.)
Kathleen Corcoran: the stamp pad demon, for the snow fights, the water fights and the general disorder.
Pat Head: who supplied us with great pictures and lots of laughs.
Mary Ann Chiste: for keeping us occupied down on our knees looking for her contacts.
Kevin James: for providing us with an atmosphere of cigar smoke.
Mary Ann Francis: for supplying yogurt to keep us alive.
Del Grobowsky's mother who gave us her son to keep the coffee boiling.
Shelan Goodner: for being everybody's friend.
Harv Diebel: for keeping us aware of the latest developments in the Tiger I and Tiger II series.
Bill McArthur: who handled the fixer trays better than anyone that we know.
Bruce Phyper: who never had time to smile 'cause he was always eating and whose face was always hidden at the other end of the camera.
Dan Appell: whose happy faces and chips kept us all smiling.

And Carol Dube, Linda Paltzat, Bev Engel, Lynn Theriault, Kent Berg, Leo Brodeur and all the other inhabitants of Peyton Place.

Special Thanks to Miss Miller, the head nut, for the help she gave us when we needed it (not to mention the legal skips, the free tickets, and the other fun things.)
